Morthland College Alumni

Support MC

Morthland College now has an Alumni Association! The earliest Alumni Associations date back to the late eighteenth century. Since then, graduates have played a large role in helping support their college, both financially and collaboratively. Following in traditions begun by such prestigious institutions as Harvard and Yale, Morthland College is now launching its own Alumni Association. The purpose of this organization is to ensure that an individual's contact with the college does not end upon his or her graduation. The professional, social, and scholarly relationships formed while attending Morthland College will be continued throughout the course of the alumnus's life. The Alumni Association will endeavor to keep contact with, plan events for, and remain an active and important part of the lives of Morthland College's graduates. As our alumni, all of you are a vital part of the Morthland College family. Your support and continued involvement with MC will help shape and mold the College as it grows. We really want to be able to maintain close contact with you as you move and advance through your lives. If there are any changes to your address, phone number, private email address, or occupation, please complete the update contact info form on our Alumni webpage at www.morthland.edu/community-alumni or email your information to: rrabe@morthland.edu Your support of MC is invaluable and we want to extend the opportunity for each of you to become more closely involved with the college as it grows. In order to become full members of the Morthland College Alumni Association, there is an introductory annual due of $25.00. Please send checks to: P.O. Remember When...

It was the fall of 2012 and we had just moved to our newly acquired building at 202 E. Oak. For those of us who had spent the previous academic year in a tiny storefront building, all of this new space was exhilarating. However, Washington Hall had several cosmetic issues and needed quite a few renovations. We sat shivering through many classes on frosty winter mornings, wrapped in our coats, because the heat was not working in the building yet. Our early Student Body meetings were accompanied by the sounds of incessant drilling as the building was remodeled. One particularly wet day, we had a tornado warning in West Frankfort. The nearest and safest place to go was the basement of Washington Hall. However, it was full of hanging sheets of plastic, dust, and tools. We stood huddled amidst the rubble, trying to continue with our interrupted classes. It is hard to believe how far we have come since then.

Campus Developments

Morthland College now has a three building campus! In addition to Washington Hall on Oak Street and Coleman Rhoads Hall on Main Street, MC has now received the donation of what was formerly the First United Methodist Church building. Also located on Main Street, this newest addition to the Morthland campus has been named Whitfield Hall in honor of the famous evangelist and member of the Great Awakening, George Whitfield. This new building offers additional classroom space, as well as another auditorium where Ecclesia services are being held on Wednesday mornings at 9:00 a.m. Whitfield Hall will also be the main building for the Biblical Studies program and will house the Biblical Studies library.

Thank you!

To our Morthland College Alumni: the Morthland College faculty, staff, administration, and students would like to thank you for your continued support! Whether you began at MC as a freshman or transferred in with previous credit, your graduation marks a milestone in both your life and in the life of this college. As previous graduates, you represent the embodiment of our mission and vision as an institution. You are a testimony to the quality of the education we offer and your support and continued interest in Morthland College means a great deal. Thank you!

Current Student Life

Morthland College has continued to grow since last semester and enrollment this fall is over 90 students. Student Body President Allen Petrowich and Vice President Ruth Rabe have many plans in place for the coming academic year. Exciting new developments include a student newspaper. The Morthland Minuteman will be published monthly and will update students on coming events, activities, and sporting events, as well as offering student life stories and opinion pieces. Another change in student life is the renaming of Chapel services. Now titled Ecclesia (Greek for "the gathering"), this service offers students an opportunity to gather together in worship every week.
